MRS. DARLENE CHAI

Hello! My name is Darlene Chai (formerly Liu), and I am the Middle School English teacher at New Covenant Academy.

Growing up, I had always thought about becoming a teacher, but it wasn't until my third year of college at UC San Diego that I actually took the steps to go into the classroom. I enrolled in a course that provided volunteer tutoring opportunities at a local school, and I haven't left the classroom since!

My favorite part of teaching English is reading literature with my students. I love how literature, whether fiction or nonfiction, can open people up to new worlds and perspectives, as well as a deeper understanding of ourselves and others.

In my free time, I like to enjoy good food and good coffee with friends.
