ABOUT NCA

New Covenant Academy (NCA) is a private, non-profit, college-prep school established in 1999 in the urban center of Los Angeles. NCA's mission statement is to educate, equip, and enable the Christian leaders of tomorrow by providing high quality college prep instruction, spiritual guidance, mentoring support, and family-strengthening counseling programs. NCA does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, disability, gender, religion, or income.

UNIQUE FEATURES

- NCA is small by design; the average high school class is 15 students
- NCA does not rank its students
- NCA is one of only two high schools in the city of Los Angeles providing the International Baccalaureate Diploma Program
- NCA offers both AP and IB tracks
- All core classes at the high school level have been approved by the UC system and are on the a-g list
- NCA has developed a high-tech learning environment that utilizes both traditional curriculum as well as Pearson's digital textbooks, content, as well as other learning and assessment features
- 99% of graduates have been accepted by at least one University of California campus
- Graduates have moved on to a variety of top tier universities and liberal arts colleges such as: Air Force Academy, Cornell, Davidson, Duke, Haverford, Naval Academy, NYU, UC Berkeley, UCLA, USC, U Penn, Wesleyan, West Point, and Yale
- The Class of 2017, made up of 15 students, collectively earned $2.1 million in merit-based scholarships
- NCA consistently produces multiple National Merit Semi-Finalists and Commendation Recipients each year
- NCA competes in various sports through the California Interscholastic Federation (CIF), and has won multiple state-wide academic championship awards in Wrestling and Basketball
